

Product Solution Specialist

To lighten the text, the masculine prevails but is used without regard to gender.

Objectif Lune is seeking a Product Solution Specialist, passionate about using technology to create customer solutions and wishing to share his expertise in understanding and transforming customer paper-based processes into modern digital solutions. Working as part of an elite team of Technical Product Managers and reporting to the Chief Product Officer, the specialist will be responsible for helping to develop, maintain and improve our solutions, ensuring that all technical departments are fully trained and informed. Challenges excite you? You want to have real influence and control over what you do on a day to day basis? This job may be for you!

What you will be doing

- Work with Connect software to turn solution concepts into a reality
- Learn, use, improve and create best practices to maximize the robustness of the solution
- Support and educate the training department, pre & post sales engineers on the solutions
- Get feedback from customers and partners and sales teams to make improvements

Your technical profile

- Front end HTML, CSS and JavaScript programming skills
- A working knowledge of WordPress and PHP
- Strong database skills
- Experience with Azure (preferred)
- Knowledge of Git (preferred)
- A flair for and interest in Design, specifically with regards to user interfaces

Your great qualities

- You think strategically and easily understand business needs
- You have a strong analytical mind with data driven thinking
- You are a Web addict, and keep your knowledge of this domain up to date
- You can hold your own in a technological conversation with integrators and programmers
- You demonstrate strong project management skills that give you the ability to multi-task in a fast pace environment
- You are attentive to details, show thoroughness and are well organized
- You are a real team player
- You are autonomous and know how to take initiative

Your education and experience

- 3 years of web-based development experience
- Qualification or experience in Computer Science

Location and work schedule

- Ede, The Netherlands or Montreal, QC, Canada
- Flexible schedule

Still interested?

Visit <https://objmtil.bamboohr.co.uk/jobs/view.php?id=23>